

Ste. Genevieve Fair Play

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1875

SMITH & WATHEN, Publishers.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS.

Plenty of rain this week.

The streets are very muddy.

The first snow of the season fell last Tuesday.

Read Mr. Jaccard's new advertisement.

Several new "ads" this week. Read them.

Judge John B. Robinson was in our town last week.

The epizootic has made its appearance in Stoddard county.

About a dozen persons attended the "Big Bonanza" last Friday night.

Three deaths and two marriages were reported in the New Era last week.

A horse belonging to Mr. Ed. Mcnard, was shot near Kaskaskia last week, by unknown parties.

In another column we publish a letter from Hon. R. A. Hatcher. Every young man should read it.

It is said, that there has been more wheat sown in Cape Girardeau county this fall than last year.

The mail route between New Madrid and Kennett, by Weaverville and Clarkson, has been discontinued.

Miss Ella Robinson, of Ste. Genevieve county, sister of our worthy circuit judge, is here on a visit.—[Union]

The wheat of our neighboring county across the river, is reported by the Chester Tribune to be "doing badly."

The postoffice, news, bank, and several other business houses of Chester were closed on Thanksgiving day.

Market street near the Gambelius Hall, has been improved. There are other streets in this city that need improving.

—20 Sacks Liverpool G. A. salt just received and for sale to the trade at $1.40 per sack by JOHN F. SCHUCHERT.

An eagle was killed in Ripley county the other day that measured seven feet and one inch from tip to tip of wings.

We were presented with a few pounds of fine tobacco, last week, by Mr. P. Aubuchon of Avon, for which he has our thanks.

The office of the FAIR PLAY can now be found in Mrs. Wilder's brick building, on Main street, near Merchant.

The Mississippi is very low now, and all the steamers are behind time, which causes our river mail to be very irregular.

WANTED.—About ten cords of good dry, oak wood, at this office, for which we will pay Cash.

Leon Rousin, formerly of this city but now editor of the Ossceola, Ark., Times, was elected mayor of Ossceola a few days ago.

Our office was visited by Mr. John Carron, of Bloomsdale, last week. He is one of our most respected citizens, and we are always glad to meet him.

If you need a good suit of clothes, don't fail to call at the store of Rozier & Jokerst and examine their new stock of clothing, just received, which they are selling at greatly reduced prices.

Owing to the fact that we did not receive our paper from St. Louis on time, this week, we are late with this issue. This will not occur again, however, as our paper will come by way of the Iron Mountain railroad hereafter.

Mr. S. H. Smith of the Fair Play has sold his job press to the St. Louis type foundry last Monday.—[Free Press.]

Yes; but we are yet prepared to do all kinds of job printing. We have the best printing office in this country; and all orders for printing left at it will be promptly attended to.

Mr. S. Henry Smith left this city for Cape Girardeau, last Tuesday morning. A printing company has been organized at "the Cape"—of which Mr. Smith is president—and they intend opening the largest printing establishment that has ever been in this part of the state. We wish the company success.

Our old friend, Peter Lalumendiere, of River aux Vause, was in town last week, and had his name placed on our subscription book. The circulation of our paper is rapidly increasing; but still we have space on our book for many more names.

Capt. Baxter, of Grand Tower, recently "went a hunting" and killed a deer, and became so excited about it that he died a few moments afterward.

Young man, Christmas is approaching, and your "sweet one" expects a Christmas present. You can do no better than to present her with the FAIR PLAY for one year.

—50 Sack Choice Rio Coffee just received and for sale to the trade at St. Louis quotations by JOHN F. SCHUCHERT.

A lady of Ste. Genevieve has a blooming rose bush said to be over one hundred years old. [Union]

Friend Booth, the lady resides in the southern part of Illinois; not in Ste. Genevieve.

THE GAME LAW.—Venison is in season between the 1st day of September and the 15th day of January.

Wild turkey between the 1st of September and the 1st of April.

Prairie chicken between the 15th of August and the 1st of February.

Pheasant, partridge or quail between the 1st of October and the 1st of February.

Dove or meadow lark between the 1st of August and the 1st of February.

Our fellow-townsmen Christopher Wege met with an unfortunate accident last Thursday evening, while returning from his farm in the country. As will be remembered, it was very dark on that night, and raining besides, making it difficult to travel. When in the vicinity of Mr. John Hahn's residence, on the plank road, about one mile from this city, he failed to keep his team in the middle of the road, and before he was aware of it, his wagon, horses and himself and wife were precipitated down an embankment, a distance of some fifteen feet, killing one of horses instantly and wrecking the wagon. Mr. Wege received a good drubbing of soft mud, while his wife sustained several severe bruises, the wagon-bed falling on her. Under the circumstances, the parties were very lucky in escaping with their lives. Mr. Wege is a comparatively poor man, and should meet with some aid at the hands of our liberal citizens.—[Chester Tribune.]

Take off you hat to those Van Buren girls, the Misses Williams, Lynch and Duhamlin. The first two are in their father's store and Miss. Duhamlin her father's printing office.

Miss Rose Williams, at D. C. Williams' store, and Miss. Emily Lynch, at M. Lynch's, are some of the attractions that draw customers to the above establishments. And Miss. Fannie Duhamlin is learning to set type in the Press office. They all show a commendable and praiseworthy spirit, and one that they will never have reason to be ashamed of.—[Press.]

Correct, and we to would like to see more of that same spirit, you may add that Miss. Cora Brown, aged 12 years, sets type in the Banner Office, and can put up her column of type every day.—[Union Banner.]

And Miss. Mary Winston has a case in the Express Office, and is the best looking and most agreeable "devil" in the state.—[Circuit Express.]

Frank Cooley published his "syndicate" in the last issue of the Farmington New Era. Our young friend, Clarence Lee, took charge of that paper last week. Clarence is a good printer and a spry writer, and will no doubt make a very interesting paper of the New Era. We wish him success.
